

☞ CELEBRATING THE HUMANITIES AT HOPKINS ☞

Friday, September 17, 2010
Gilman Hall

COLLOQUIUM

2:00 – 5:30 p.m.
Marjorie Fisher Auditorium

WELCOME

Katherine Newman, James B. Knapp Dean
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences

“HOW TO WRITE A SENTENCE”

Stanley Fish
Davidson-Kahn Distinguished University Professor of Humanities and Law
College of Law
Florida International University

Introduction by Gabrielle Spiegel, Krieger-Eisenhower Professor Department of History, Johns Hopkins University

“A SENSE OF PLACE: FLORENCE, BRONZINO, AND BALTIMORE”

Elizabeth Cropper
Dean
Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts
National Gallery of Art

Introduction by Stephen J. Campbell
Henry M. and Elizabeth P. Wiesenfeld Professor
Department of the History of Art, Johns Hopkins University

“KAFKA'S WISH”

David E. Wellbery
LeRoy T. and Margaret Deffenbaugh Carlson University Professor
Department of Comparative Literature
The University of Chicago

Introduction by Michael Fried, J.R. Herbert Boone Chair in the Humanities
The Humanities Center, Johns Hopkins University

RECEPTION

5:30 – 6:30 p.m.
Memorial Hall and Atrium

RSVP to rsvp@jhu.edu